

ROV-shackle with R-pin - G209R Release

Durable ROV shackle from Crosby featuring integrated deformation and angle indicators. Ideal for demanding subsea operations where safety and precision matter.

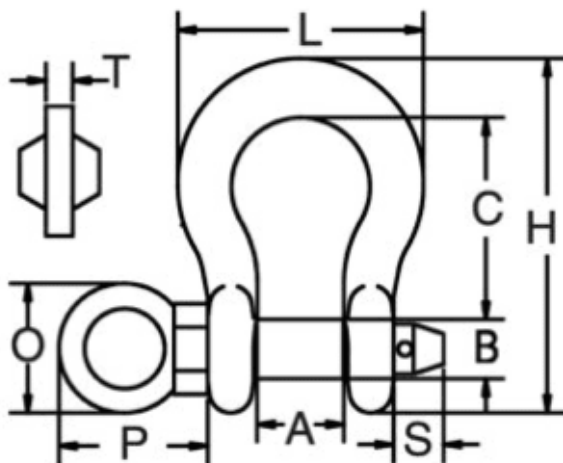

The Crosby G-209R is a purpose-built ROV release shackle with forged deformation and angle indicators for easy visual inspection. Made from forged steel with alloy pin, CE-marked and compliant with EN 13889 standard. Surface is galvanized and coated in fluorescent yellow for maximum underwater visibility. Safety factor 5:1.

Warning: Do not heat treat!

Available in multiple sizes with WLL ranging from 6.5 to 55 tons.

Material Smidd stål med legeret bolt

Read more about the product here:

<https://john-dahle.no/product?number=VM-0311009>