

Spring for FRAM SK sling- and ROV hooks

nøsted &

Durable and reliable spring latch designed for FRAM SK slave and ROV hooks. Ensures secure locking performance in demanding operations.

The spring latch is engineered to maintain a safe and dependable locking mechanism on FRAM SK slave and ROV hooks. It ensures that the hook's safety latch operates correctly even in harsh offshore and subsea environments.

Manufactured for high durability and consistent performance, the spring latch keeps the hook securely closed under load, vibration, and continuous use. Easy to install and essential for maintaining safe and reliable lifting operations.

Sales unit: PCS

Read more about the product here:

<https://john-dahle.no/product?number=VM-0211950>