

Folding ruler, aluminium – Hultafors A61

The A61 measuring stick is a durable and heat-resistant folding ruler made from anodised aluminium with galvanised steel joints. It resists moisture, heat, and wear, with clear markings in both millimetres and inches – ideal for demanding work environments.

Crafted from anodised aluminium, the A61 offers excellent protection against corrosion, moisture, and heat. The galvanised steel joints add strength and durability. It features black markings on both sides – metric scale underneath and imperial inches on top. This ruler is well-suited for both indoor and outdoor use in tough conditions.

Width	15 mm
Material	Aluminum

Read more about the product here:

<https://john-dahle.no/product?number=1340010VM>